

Intelligence Production and Analysis

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

- Perform in-depth political, counterintelligence, or counterterrorism analyses for senior policymakers and key components in the Intelligence Community (IC), law enforcement, and the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI).
- Develop and produce a broad range of finished intelligence products in support of United States (US) foreign policy and national security interests.
- Prepare and present written and oral briefings to senior internal and external customers on significant intelligence issues.
- Conduct and produce tactical, multidisciplinary, and strategic analysis that supports key US national security and foreign policy objectives and helps shape IC analysis and priorities.
- Utilize a variety of methodological tools and approaches to gain a comprehensive understanding of complex and significant analytic issues; incorporate insights and findings into well-crafted, sophisticated intelligence products.
- Independently gather political, social, cultural, intelligence, or historical information in support of US interests and policy objectives; identify key internal and external sources of relevant political, socio-cultural, counterintelligence, or counterterrorism information that meet customer and self-derived needs.
- Maintain productive working relationships with colleagues, experts, IC members, policy committees, and law enforcement agencies as appropriate, and use these relationships to share information of interest; attend internal and external training, seminars, or conferences on broad or more strategic subject areas.

Knowledge, Skills, and Abilities Required:

- Ability to effectively research, develop, and write high-quality, complex analyses, studies, projects, assignments, and briefings on key US foreign policy and national security objectives focused on a specific region or transnational issue for IC consumers and policymakers at the highest levels of government.
- Thorough knowledge of political, cultural, social, historical, intelligence, and transnational activities, as well as diplomatic traits and behaviors of specific country or region.
- Ability to apply knowledge of ODNI, IC organizations, and relevant customer organizations or operations (e.g., military, policymakers, and law enforcement), in order to effectively translate their requirements and provide appropriate output or responses to meet customer needs.
- Thorough knowledge of IC policy and procedures, and thorough knowledge of analytic tradecraft.
- Ability to apply a broad range of methodological tools and approaches to research, analyze, and present scientific, technical, or weapons-related data (modeling, link analysis, or software).
- Ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements; ability to support group decisions and solicit opinions from coworkers.
- Ability to maintain regular contacts within ODNI and the IC for purposes of sharing information.
- Analytical and critical thinking skills, including an ability to think strategically.
- Interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including an ability to work effectively both independently and in a team or collaborative environment, and mentor junior colleagues; creative problem-solving skills and initiative in carrying out mission responsibilities based on senior-level guidance.